

DEVELOPMENT RESOURCE CENTRE STRATEGIC PLAN 2007-2011

KEY STAKEHOLDER CONSULTATION

The Development Resource Centre (DRC) is in the process of creating a new strategic plan that will provide the overall framework for DRC activities between July 2007 and June 2011.

As part of this process we are seeking input from our key stakeholders and we are inviting you to contribute. Stakeholder input is an important component of this process and we welcome your comments. We would like your views on, what is working well, what could be improved and suggestions for future directions.

Attached is a brief overview of the DRC. More information, including our current strategic plan and the most recent annual report, is available from www.drc.org.nz »ABOUT DRC.

To have your say please complete either the printed pdf file and return it to So'o Levy (Administration Officer) or alternatively complete the questions below and email to soo@drc.org.nz

We would appreciate your response by 5 May 2006.

I would like to thank you for taking the time to participate in our key stakeholder consultation. We look forward to sharing our new strategic plan with you later this year.

Yours sincerely,

Tim O'Donovan

ABOUT THE DEVELOPMENT RESOURCE CENTRE

The Development Resource Centre [DRC] is a not-for-profit, non-government, charitable trust with a voluntary governance board. The DRC provides specialist information and education services in Aotearoa New Zealand focused on development and global issues. It is core funded by NZAID Nga Hoe Tuputupu-mai-tawhiti (The New Zealand Agency for International Development).

The DRC's work is guided at all times by a set of core values which recognise that development must be people-centred, holistic and sustainable.

The DRC consists of two programmes, Dev-Zone and the Global Education Centre [GEC]:

Dev-Zone's work is grounded in Aotearoa New Zealand, focuses on the Pacific and provides coverage of development in the rest of the world. It has information from a range of perspectives on global issues including human rights, fair trade, globalisation and gender and development. You can access this information through:

- Dev-Zone's library which is open to the public and has a unique collection of books, journals, annual reports, hard-to-get videos/DVDs and reference material
- Dev-Zone's website which a constantly updated range of online resources including articles, reports and websites, and email bulletins.
- Dev-Zone's staff who are qualified information and development professionals that can answer quick queries free of charge or undertake in-depth information searches and literature reviews at reasonable rates.

The Global Education Centre (GEC) provides services surrounding Global Education to the formal and informal education sectors in Aotearoa New Zealand and builds capacity to include global awareness into their programmes.

- The Schools Programme provides resources and training for teachers, teacher trainees and students. Services include the provision of workshops, Global Issues magazine, fact sheets on a range of countries and global institutions, and resource kits based on the Aotearoa NZ curriculum.
- The Community Youth Programme provides services that support youth workers and young people in the community including youth worker resources, a youth driven website (www.justfocus.org.nz), training for youth workers and community educators, and workshops and support for young people.
